Few Vets Will Be Able To Buy Homes In 1947

Washington, Jan. 25.—(UP)—The federal government's new program to help veterans buy homes in 1947 is likely to be a disappointment for many of them. The program, which was announced last week, is based on the assumption that the average veteran will have a net worth of $10,000. But many veterans have lost their homes and savings during the war, and are now in a financial straits.

But veterans may be able to rent more homes in the high-cost areas. The government is planning to build 100,000 dwellings to be built during the year, the general said in an address prepared for delivery to the Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defense.

Gen. Fleming, who also is director of the federal housing agency, declared that the building construction industry is still using techniques which are out of date.

Allis Workers Vote On Union Representation

Milwaukee, Jan. 25 — (AP) — The bitter dispute between rival unions at Allis-Chalmers will reach its climax tomorrow when production and maintenance employees of the company will decide if they wish to continue to be represented by the striking UAW-CIO Local 248, or by the Independent Workers of Allis-Chalmers or neither.

Police Chief John Polcyn, declaring he had been reliably informed that "certain groups" planned mass picketing of the election hall in the Milwaukee auditorium, said "proper arrangements will be made to handle whatever develops."

A spokesman of Local 248 said the local planned no demonstrations.

Polcyn asked City Attorney Walter Mattison for a legal opinion on picketing of the election and Asst. City Atty. Clyde Sheets replied that "any interference with any voter at this election" would violate the state employment peace act.

About 11,000 workers are eligible to vote in the election, ordered by the Wisconsin employment relations board on petition of the Independent Workers Union.

Both local and international officers of the UAW-CIO have predicted the incumbent union would win the election. Earlier the UAW appealed to the federal court for an injunction against the holding of the election but lost both in the federal district court here and in the federal court of appeals at Chicago.

Issues in the strike, which began April 29, include the question of a union shop, a union demand for a 25 cents an hour increase, and control of grievance procedure.

Eagle-Lion Plans Durbin Build-Up For Lois Butler

By Bob Thomas
Hollywood, Jan. 25 — (AP) — Eagle-Lion studio belatedly discovered it has something in Lois Butler. The 15-year-old was tested for a high school picture and signed, although she didn't get the original role.

The marriage of Miss Marie McGinnis of Kempton and Marvin Moore at St. John Catholic church in Chatham today brought to mind the tragic accident on Nov. 3, 1944, in which Miss McGinnis nearly lost her life and in which eight persons, including her brother, died.

The accident was the worst of its type in the history of Kankakee county.

Miss McGinnis suffered critical injuries in the crash, which occurred four miles north of Kankakee on highway 54 when the car in which she was riding rammed against the rear of a parked semi-trailer truck.

She was confined to her bed for many months and finally rallied to chest death.

Killed in the wreck were Ethel Resdori, 22, of South Wilmington, a bride-to-be; James C. McGinnis, 23, of Kempton, a sailor in the U. S. Navy and prospective groom, home on an 18-day leave; Loren Book, 24, of Cahokia, driver of the car; Miss Mary Heenan, 40, of Chicago; Louis Heenan, 12; Elaine Heenan, 8, and Dennis Heenan, 3, all of Chicago, and Mrs. Patricia Heenan, 40, mother of the three children.

The bride-to-be and the prospective groom had driven to Chicago the day before to get the Heenans and Miss McGinnis to take them to South Wilmington, where the wedding was to be held in St. Rose church the next day.

Miss McGinnis, who was living in Chicago at the time, was a sister of the young groom-to-be.

The first six named were killed outright, while Mrs. Heenan and Dennis died later at St. Mary hospital.

The tragedy occurred after Chance White Young, 60, a truck driver of Clarksville, Tenn., stopped his huge vehicle along the highway due to tire trouble. He told authorities that he set out red flares and then started up the road to telephone for aid. Shortly afterward, the car driven by Book plowed into the rear of the semi-trailer and was wedged tightly under it.

The accident occurred on a cold, foggy and rainy Friday night, when road traveling conditions were poor.

J. R. Kesterson, pastor.

Those attending were Wanda and Janita Taylor, Robby Stoops, LaVerne Landry, Wanda and Jackie Bosson, Fiodine Frizzell, Marvin St. John, Darrell St. Aubin, Sherry Rose Herms and Pamela Landry.

Other guests included Reba Herms, Mabel Swan, Martha Stoops, Alice Landry, and Regina Roberts, and Lee St. Aubin. Refreshments were served and Gladys was the recipient of many gifts.

W. C. T. U. Sponsors Service

The W. C. T. U. had charge of the service at the Methodist church Sunday evening. Three motion pictures were shown: "It's the Brain That Counts," "This Is Our Earth," and "As We Forgive." Mrs. J. R. Kesterson and Mrs. T. L. Boyd were chairmen of the event.
